

I am a over the road trucker, and i feel that having local traffic and weather of the major metro areas, available to me as a subscriber of XM Radio is a very helpful tool. Also being able to find this information rapidly on a certain channel, without having to search a dial for info is a key to me being able to be a safe driver on America's highways and not only that but having to wait for this info on regular radio is a big inconvenience. I think you people have more important things to focus on and being that i pay for this service, I think you should leave XM radio alone and let them do what they do best and that is provide service.
